

Objective: To create a portfolio website to help showcase the client's writing work.

Project: I developed a simple, but effect single page web layout to neatly organize the client's work. I also worked to design custom titles to help create a more in-depth experience that will help engage the users.

Results: The client reported receiving 50% more calls for potential job offerings, in which one did lead to a full-time position.

Desktop Views:

Meet the Writer

I was born and raised on Detroit's West Side, in the hard working blue-collar Polish neighborhood of Warrendale. I'm a Detroit Public School graduate and fought hard to earn my education. My aspiration into journalism came as a young kid, when I began following the corruption scandal of former Detroit mayor, Kwame Kilpatrick.

Published articles

Historical Narratives

Data reports

Press releases

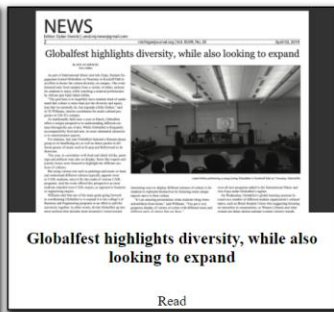

Working columns

Published articles

NEWS
Mueller finds no conspiracy, but doesn't clear the president from potential crimes

Read

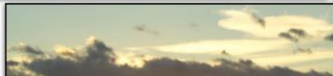

NEWS
Globalfest highlights diversity, while also looking to expand

Read

NEWS
Students recognized for their leadership

Read

Mobile Views:

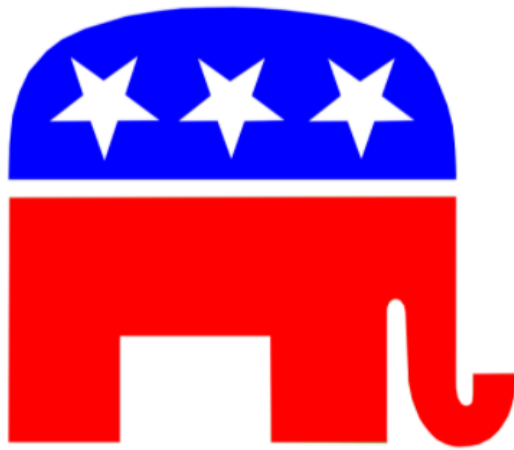

Historical Narratives

America vs Itself at Antietam:
How Northern Newspapers
Empowered Lincoln's Greatest Political Feat

Read

Future of Republican politics

Read

© 2021 Dylan Siwicki