

Objective: To create a portfolio website that helps showcase the client's teaching background with Lesson Plans, Letters of Rec, Experience, ect.

Project: I developed a highly creative single page layout to make the site really stand out. I organized sections to clearly display the work and make it bright and visible. I choose color schemes and design aspects based off the client's personal taste.

Results: The client reported receiving high praise from several teaching professionals thought out the Oakland County school districts.
